Which courses do I have to take?

- Basically, the degree programme at the HFBK is divided into different courses: Modules and accompanying courses.
- All courses can be found in the course catalogue on our website. They are divided into the following four areas:

Modules „Introduction to Artistic Work“ = Foundation Year	Modules „Scientific Studies“ = e.g. seminars, lectures etc...
Modules „Artistic Development Projects“ = artistic class including individual critiques	Accompanying Courses = foundation courses, practical courses, group critiques

„Introduction to Artistic Work“ (1st and 2nd Semester: Foundation Class, Orientation)

- In the 1st and 2nd semester (orientation phase), there is an introductory artistic module in each major. You complete this module as part of your foundation class.
- In the foundation classes, you will be intensively supervised by a professor during the first year of study.
- The work in the artistic classes consists of different teaching formats. For regular participation in both formats you will receive your credit points at the end of the semester for the module: "Introduction to artistic work".

Individual critique

= Individual meeting with your professor

Group critique

= Group discussion/class meeting with your fellow students, where you can talk about your artistic development plans.

You will be assigned to the foundation classes by lottery. It is therefore possible that your foundation class does not correspond to your desired department (interdisciplinary art education). You will only be assigned to a specific artistic class from the 3rd semester onwards.
